- Pumpkin Pie – 2 ¼" x 1 ¼"
- Very Vanilla – scraps
- Window Sheet – 3 5/8" x 2 ¼"

Instructions:

- Stamp plaid image on flat Book Treat Box (the side that has the flap). The whole box will not fit on the stamp, so you have to stamp a couple times. You can see how I placed the box folds on the edge of the stamp. Be sure to stamp the little flap that sticks out, too!
- Stamp the sides of the bottom box (that's all that will be showing) and do it in the same manner as the previous one, lifting the parts on the score lines so you aren't stamping where you don't want it to go.
- Die cut a rectangle on the box top (this will be the side that has sticky strip already on it!) The Deckled Rectangle Die is 3 1/8" x 1 3/4".
- Adhere Window Sheet to the under-side of the box. You don't need adhesive because the sticky strip is already there.
- Close the box lid and wrap the flap around the box. The flap will be on the under-side of the box. I didn't put anything on the end of the flap to keep it shut because the ribbon will keep it closed.
- Die cut a small tag as shown, from Greetings of the Season Dies.
- Stamp the word "pumpkin" on scrap Very Vanilla cardstock in Pecan Pie ink.
- Fussy cut around the word, and adhere to small tag, using Dimensionals.
- Stamp the sentiment "to my" in Pecan Pie ink, on tag, as shown.
- Place treat inside the box. I used Reese's peanut butter cup in the shape of a pumpkin.
- Tie Pecan Pie ribbon around the box, making sure the ribbon goes over the box flap to keep it closed.
